February is National Heart Month

This is a great time to make sure your ticker is tickin' properly. We've all heard it: change your diet, maintain a healthy weight, be physically active, quit smoking. But why? Can this advice really help you lower your cholesterol and improve your heart health? YES! Making small changes in your daily routine can add up to big benefits and help you live a healthier, more balanced life. So remember...Make half your grains whole, increase fruits and vegetables and know your fats.

Help us welcome our new Corrections Officers

The Coosa County Sherriff's Office would like to welcome Officer Jessica Lemaster. Jessica joins us from Kentucky and has been employed with The Coosa County Jail since September of 2023. She was employed as a nurses aid but wanted a life change and she chose Corrections. She enjoys Kayaking and everything outdoors. Welcome to Coosa County Jessica. We are excited to start this journey with you!

Knowledge of the Law

By: Chaplain Matthew Reams

Chaplain Matthew Reams

I have always had a need for adrenaline. The thrill of going fast and feeling the wind through my hair has always been something that intrigued me. As a boy I would ride my bike up and down the country roads where I lived, looking forward to getting to the peak of a hill so I could fly down the other side. If I was lucky enough and got up enough speed, I could make it to the crest of the next hill to start the process all over again. I remember going to a friend's house who had a go-cart. I couldn't wait for my turn to ride. As soon as I hopped on, the first thing I did was put the gas pedal all the way to the floor. Unfortunately that ride didn't last long thanks to the crosstie that held up his mom's flower bed. As I grew into my teenage years I will have to admit, that need for speed carried over into my vehicle driving. I remember going down the road and thinking to myself that the speed limits were set way lower than they should have been. Of course that mentality lead me to my first speeding ticket on North Central Road in Alex City. Even though I thought the limit for that road was set lower than it should have been, I had the knowledge that the actual law said I could only go 35 mph. I am reminded of what Paul says in Romans 5:13 (ESV), "for sin indeed was in the world before the law was given, but sin is not counted where there is no law". If the speed limit of the road didn't exist, then I would have been able to freely travel up and down as fast as I wanted. But since there was a law that stated the limit, then when I went above that limit, I deserved the punishment that came with that trespass, in this case it was a written financial reminder and an increase in my vehicle insurance premium. In reality, that law was placed for the protection of myself and others.

In God's word He has established laws as well. The most notable of those laws are known as the 10 commandments. These commandments were set in place to help us understand what it takes to live up to God's standard. What happens if we break God's law? Well, we see in Romans 3:23 that we "all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God". The punishment for breaking God's law is much more severe than the speeding ticket that I received as a teenager. Romans 6:23 tells us that "the wages of sin is death". That is a depressing thing to think about. Let's be honest with ourselves, no matter how good of a person we try to be, every one of us has fallen short of the standard set by God. So, what do we do? Well, thankfully there is a second part to Romans 6:23. It says that "the free gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord". Jesus tells us that he didn't come to do away with the law, but He came to complete the law. He paid the penalty for our sin and extends to us access to the Holy God if we repent and turn away from those sins and follow Him. I pray that each and every one of us will think about our current standing when it comes to the law of God, and if you haven't made the decision to follow Jesus Christ, that today would be the day of your salvation.

Online Dating

February is the month for love because so many are celebrating Valentine's Day. The one's who don't have a significant other could possibly be feeling lonely and rushed to fill that void. Times have changed. You typically don't meet someone in today's times like you did years ago. More than 40 million Americans use online dating services or dating apps. As is the case when meeting someone new, whether online or offline, it's wise to keep a few safety precautions in mind. Remember, dating apps don't conduct criminal background checks on users, so it's up to each user to determine if they are comfortable meeting up with someone.

Also remember, scammers will ask for money, gifts or your banking or credit card details. They may also ask you to send pictures or videos of yourself, possibly of an intimate nature. Be careful!

So.... You've met that special someone online and now you are ready to meet them in person! Below are some steps you can take to increase your safety when finally meeting them!

When Meeting in Person

Video chat before you meet up in person. Once you have matched with a potential date and chatted, consider scheduling a video chat with them before meeting up in-person for the first time. This can be a good way to help ensure your match is who they claim to be in their profile. If they strongly resist a video call, that could be a sign of suspicious activity.

Tell a friend where you're going. Take a screenshot of your date's profile and send it to a friend. Let at least one friend know where and when you plan to go on your date. If you continue your date in another place you hadn't planned on, text a friend to let them know your new location. It may also be helpful to arrange to text or call a friend partway through the date or when you get home to check in.

Meet in a public place. For your first date, avoid meeting someone you don't know well yet in your home, apartment, or workplace. It may make both you and your date feel more comfortable to meet in a coffee shop, restaurant, or bar with plenty of other people around. Avoid meeting in public parks and other isolated locations for first dates.

Don't rely on your date for transportation. It's important that you are in control of your own transportation to and from the date so that you can leave whenever you want and do not have to rely on your date in case you start feeling uncomfortable. Even if the person you're meeting volunteers to pick you up, avoid getting into a vehicle with someone you don't know and trust, especially if it's the first meeting.

Stick to what you're most comfortable with. There's nothing wrong with having a few drinks on a date. Try to keep your limits in mind and do not feel pressured to drink just because your date is drinking.

Enlist the help of a bartender or waiter. If you feel uncomfortable in a situation, it can help to find an advocate nearby. You can enlist the help of a waiter or bartender to help you create a distraction, call the police, or get a safe ride home.

Trust your instincts. If you feel uncomfortable, trust your instincts and feel free to leave a date or cut off communication with whoever is making you feel unsafe. Do not worry about feeling rude—your safety is most important, and your date should understand that.

If you felt uncomfortable or unsafe during the date, remember you can always unmatch, block, or report your match after meeting up in person which will keep them from being able to access your profile in the future.

Always remember, you can call 911 or The Coosa County Sheriff's Office if you ever feel uncomfortable or unsafe at 256-377-4922

Put on Love

Ever wonder why some relationships are strengthened through trials and tragedy; yet, others collapse? There's no simple explanation.

Past challenges and restoration might give strength when needed most. Repeated heartaches might break fragile connections. We're often reminded of help found through strong support systems. All are strengthened by the love and support of family, cherished friends and a compassionate church family. Our support remains steady when built upon a foundation of love. Relationships firmly planted in God's family have love in their root system.

“Therefore, God’s chosen ones, holy and loved, put on heartfelt compassion, kindness, humility, gentleness, and patience, accepting one another and forgiving one another if anyone has a complaint against another. Just as the Lord has forgiven you, so you must also forgive.

\Above all, put on love—the perfect bond of unity. And let the peace of the Messiah, to which you were also called in one body, control your hearts. Be thankful. Let the message about the Messiah dwell richly among you, teaching and admonishing one another in all wisdom, and singing psalms, hymns, and spiritual songs, with gratitude in your hearts to God.

And whatever you do, in word or in deed, do everything in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God the Father through Him (Colossians 3:12-17 HCSB).”

*Needing support? Offering your support?
“Above all, put on love (Colossians 3:14a).”*

Scripture Encouragement

“Now these three remain:
faith, hope, and love.

But the greatest of these is love.”

RECENTLY FALLEN K9s

K9 Nyx

Rockford Police Department, IL

EOW: Sunday, January 28, 2024

Cause: Gunfire

* This occurred in Rockford, Illinois, NOT Rockford, Alabama*

K9 Nyx was shot and killed while tracking a suspect involved in a domestic incident.

Officers were investigating a domestic situation and searching for the suspect. When K9 Nyx tracked the suspect to the 2900 Block of 11th Street in Rockford, gunfire ensued. K9 Nyx was shot and killed.

The suspect sustained a non-life-threatening wound and was apprehended.

Nyx served with the Rockford Police Department for over five years. She was trained in narcotics detection, evidence recovery, human tracking, and apprehension.

When a police officer is killed, it's not an agency that loses an officer, it's an entire nation.

A New, New Year's Workout Commitment

Approximately 38-years ago, I joined my first fitness center. I was no longer in my 20s, but I was also no longer in a 32 in the waist. The length of my pants was still the same. Actually, I had not been in a 32 for a while, but they still hung in the back of my closet... you know, just in case. I had always been active and for the most in good shape. I had played tennis off-and-on since I was a teenager. When I looked at myself in the mirror, it appeared to me that hickory-smoked pork with sweet barbecue sauce and fried onion rings might be winning out over tennis. So, I decided I needed to do something more. I lived in Marietta, Georgia, at the time. There was a fitness center a few miles down the road and several members of our church worked out there, so I joined. My new club had one racquetball court, and I had one friend at church that played there. He talked me into playing. During my college days, at Samford University, I had watched people play handball and racquetball, but I had never played either. I said I was not going to like it. I said I would rather play tennis. I played one time. The next week I played twice. I've played, on average, three-times each week since then, until about two-years ago. About that time, I switched from racquetball to pickleball. You might think, as did I, that I would never have a heart problem.

Bro. Bill King Columnist

I have belonged to a fitness center, with racquetball courts, ever since those days 38-years ago. Periodically, through the years, on the days I didn't play, I worked out. Honestly, playing a game was much more fun to me than working out, and eating whatever I wanted to eat was more fun than either. I often said, "I play racquetball so I can eat whatever." That way of thinking almost cost me my life.

As each year came to a close, I knew I needed to change my habits. Every year, several other club members and I made fresh commitments to do better in the coming year. I made resolutions to eat healthier and exercise more consistently. Some years I even made it way on into February before I began to slide.

Well, January has come and February is here. Guess who is back in there working out. I'm not playing racquetball or pickleball right now. I'm in a different kind of fitness center this time and for a different reason. I'm still a member of the Opelika Sportsplex, and The Opelika Pickleball Club, but now I am also working out three-times each week at East Alabama Medical Center...in the Cardiac Rehab Unit. There's about ten people in my group, who have all had some kind of cardiac surgery or issue. We aren't exercising just to lose a few pounds, or so we can eat that hamburger and fries, or to ward off a heart attack. We aren't doing preventative workouts...we are doing recovery workouts.

I've come to realize sometimes we can take care of ourselves before it happens, or we might find ourselves working out in a different kind of gym. No one in my new group is playing pickleball or racquetball, but I know at least one of us that eventually will be, but that's not the only thing I'll do. I'm not going to say I'll never eat another barbecued rib or fried chicken, I will, but a thick slab of grilled salmon tastes pretty awesome...and it may cost a lot less in the long run!

Programs Offered by...

Coosa County Sheriff's Office

The Yellow Dot Program

The "Yellow Dot" program is designed to assist Alabama citizens and first responders in the event of an automobile crash or other medical emergency involving the participant's vehicle. The program can help save lives during the critical "Golden Hour" by improving communication at a time when accident victims may be unable to communicate for themselves. Pick up a "Yellow Dot" folder here at the Sheriff's Office, have your photo taken and printed.

A "Yellow Dot" decal on the driver's side rear window of a vehicle alerts first responders to check in the glove compartment for the corresponding "Yellow Dot" folder. Having this information following a crash helps first responders positively identify the person, get in touch with family or emergency contacts and ensures that the person's current medications and pre-existing medical conditions are considered when treatment is administered for injuries.

Project Lifesaver

Project Lifesaver is a radio transmission system designed to assist law enforcement and rescue agencies in locating lost or missing persons who have been diagnosed with Alzheimer's, Autism, Dementia, or other disorders that may prohibit them from communicating personal information such as who they are or where they live. Project lifesaver can help provide peace of mind to caregivers. However, it does not replace the need for supervised care.

The transmitter is a small circular radio device on a wristband, approximately the size of a wristwatch. The transmitters and wristbands are worn 24 hours a day, 7 days a week and are difficult to remove without the appropriate tools. If the participant becomes lost or missing, the Sheriff's Office and emergency response services have specialized tracking equipment to help isolate the location of the transmitter the participant is wearing. The search will start from the last known location of the participant and work outward until the transmission signal is obtained. The goal is to determine the location of the signal in a quick, timely manner, minimizing the risk of harm to the loved one.

CCSO is proud to participate, along with the other agencies in Alabama, in this very worthy and worthwhile program; Sheriff Howell says this is another way we will live up to our motto, "To Serve and Protect" and he is

Neighborhood Watch Program

A citizen's involvement program where citizens, in cooperation with their local law enforcement agency, directly participate in the detection and prevention of crime. These citizens keep well informed about their neighborhood and of any suspicious, criminal or dangerous activities that may be occurring. Coosa County has five communities that participate with the CCSO in this program. Their meetings are scheduled every month, the dates and times are indicated.
